

ONE APPLICATION.
EVERY FORM, COMPLETED.

A prospect answers a single branded application on any device. When they submit, Lexington's own credit application, certificate of exemption, and freight agreement come back filled in and signed, ready for the new account desk.

WHY IT MATTERS

- Nothing re-keyed. Company, contacts, ship-to hours, tax number, and freight election are typed once and land on each Lexington form in the right box.
- Complete packets. The application will not submit without an entity type, a delivery schedule, a tax certificate on file, and a signature, so the new account desk stops chasing missing pages.
- Freight and tax done right. The prepaid freight rate for the ship-to state, the fixed-value table, and the claims rules are shown before the customer agrees; the E-595E is completed with Lexington as seller.
- No card data online. Trade accounts are told how the credit department collects card details; the site never asks for a number.

The representative reviews the packet, completes the internal checklist from the same data, and forwards everything to newaccount@lexington.com. Additional ship-to locations attach automatically as an addendum. The demo link above uses fictional companies; nothing is sent.
